Probe Metals Signs Memorandum of Understanding with Mattagami and Flying Post First Nations

Toronto, September 26, 2016 – PROBE METALS INC. (TSX-V: PRB) (“Probe” or the “Company”) is pleased to announce that it has entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") with Mattagami and Flying Post First Nations in relation to Probe’s West Porcupine Project near Foleyet, Ontario.

The MOU establishes a commitment by Probe to develop a productive and cooperative relationship and to engage in ongoing consultation with the two First Nations in the area of the Company's West Porcupine Project. The agreement also provides the communities with an opportunity to participate in the benefits of the project through employment, training and business development.

David Palmer, President and CEO of Probe, states "We are looking forward to working with both Mattagami and Flying Post First Nations on our West Porcupine project. Their contribution of local knowledge will be invaluable in helping us create a socially responsible exploration program that will benefit the Communities, the project and the Company as we move forward. Probe is committed to sustainable development and this MOU represents the first step in building strong relationships with local stakeholders."

On Behalf of the Wabun Tribal Council, the Executive Director Jason Batise commented “We are pleased to announce our completed MOU with Probe. The Agreement will allow our First Nations to continue to grow with respect to education, employment, collaboration with Probe on environmental matters, and investment into our communities. David and his team truly understand the importance of meaningful engagement with First Nation communities on whose homelands they are exploring. We look forward to working with Probe for years to come."

Under the terms of the MOU, the Company will issue 25,000 common shares and 50,000 options to each of the two First Nations communities. Each option will be exercisable into one common share at $1.76 for a period of 5 years, subject to vesting requirements. These share and option grants recognize the ongoing contributions of the First Nations communities and will allow each community to directly participate in any potential successes of the Company.

The securities are subject the approval of the TSX Venture Exchange.

Forward-Looking Statements

Neither TSX Venture Exchange nor its Regulation Services Provider (as that term is defined in the policies of the TSX Venture Exchange) accepts responsibility for the adequacy or accuracy of this release. This News Release includes certain "forward-looking statements" which are not comprised of historical facts. Forward-looking statements include estimates and statements that describe the Company's future plans, objectives or goals, including words to the effect that the Company or management expects a stated condition or result to occur. Forward-looking statements may be identified by such terms as "believes", "anticipates", "expects", "estimates", "may", "could", "would", "will", or "plan". Since forward-looking statements are based on assumptions and address future events and conditions, by their very nature they involve inherent risks and uncertainties. Although these statements are based on information currently available to the Company, the Company provides no assurance that actual results will meet management's expectations. Risks, uncertainties and other factors involved with forward-looking information could cause actual events, results, performance, prospects and opportunities to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking information. Forward looking information in this news release includes, but is not limited to, the Company's objectives, goals or future plans, statements, exploration results, potential mineralization, the estimation of mineral resources, exploration and mine development plans, timing of the commencement of operations and estimates of market conditions. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from such forward-looking information include, but are not limited to failure to identify mineral resources, failure to convert estimated mineral resources to reserves, the inability to complete a feasibility study which recommends a production decision, the preliminary nature of metallurgical test results, delays in obtaining or failures to obtain required governmental, environmental or other project approvals, political risks, inability to fulfill the duty to accommodate First Nations and other indigenous peoples, uncertainties relating to the availability and costs of financing needed in the future, changes in equity markets, inflation, changes in exchange rates, fluctuations in commodity prices, delays in the development of projects, capital and operating costs varying significantly from estimates and the other risks involved in the mineral exploration and development industry, and those risks set out in the Company's public documents filed on SEDAR. Although the Company believes that the assumptions and factors used in preparing the forward-looking information in this news release are reasonable, undue reliance should not be placed on such information, which only applies as of the date of this news release, and no assurance can be given that such events will occur in the disclosed time frames or at all. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, other than as required by law.
